COL. BARTLETT, THE ORATOR

Soldier's and Sailor's Monument at Barnstead Dedicated Today

The new soldiers and sailors monument, erected by the residents of Barnstead, was dedicated today under the most favorable auspices. The weather was all that could be desired and there was a large gathering of townspeople and from the adjacent towns. The dedicatory address was made by Col. John H. Bartlett of this city and was as follows:

Speech of Col. John H. Bartlett, at dedication of soldiers and sailors monument at Barnstead, today:

The presence, here in your town today, of so large an assemblage of citizens from so wide a radius of country, gathered to dedicate a soldier's monument erected by the voluntary contribution of your people half a century after the Battle of Bull Run, is abundant proof that patriotism is not dead in America. For we believe the same kind of patriotism which burned into the hearts of our ancestors the sentiment, "Give the liberty or give me death," is speaking out now, in this era of peace, in strong and defiant language a determination that the liberty of our fathers shall be preserved and transmitted unimpaired. The same patriotism will continue to speak eloquently through the silence of this your granite shaft to each of the countless multitudes who shall come after us. It will continue to tell to the awakening impulses of youth even in the distant regions of futurity, that liberty was purchased by the blood of their fathers who, at the birth of the Republic, raised their faces for guidance to Heaven, even as this monument points, whenever national perils were upon them. It will tell them that nowhere did the true national spirit stir more loyally and burn more ardently than here, sir, in this your own historic town of Barnstead where one hundred and seventy enlisted men out of a small population answered the call of the Rebellion. It will tell, sir, that a few survivors of that grand army, while in their feeble old age, assisted today with their own hands and voices in establishing this testimonial of their love for their country. This monument will continue to tell posterity to be brave and honorable, even as their forefathers were lion-hearted and true; and, telling these things, it can never be effaced or disappear from your beautiful village green; for new hands, perchance, centuries to come, will repair and renew it, if need be, to perpetuate your deeds of valor, even as you now are perpetuating those of your fathers.

On occasions like this the future seems to claim our attention, as well as the past, since we are erecting a monument for the future in commemoration of the past. It might well bear a double figure, one face looking seriously and reverently toward the past, and the other face looking hopefully toward the future. One hundred years hence, celebrating the centennial of this event today, I almost know that this place will be crowded again, but with new faces who will gather about this monument to record their homage for those who made it possible, and also for you who placed it here. The orator of that occasion will review the wonderful accomplishments of this Nation during that century and will look up on you as the founders of this Republic even as we now look upon Washington and his associates. For when a century shall have passed, the war which established our independent-

BURGLARS MAKE HAUL AT KITTERY

Waiting Room Entered---Cigars, Money and Tickets Gone

Some time between eleven o'clock on Friday night and six o'clock this morning burglars made another raid on the store of William Emery in the waiting station of the Atlantic Shore Railway on Badger's Island. Entrance was gained by breaking the door. The break was discovered by the crew of the steamer Alice Howard when reporting for the first trip shortly before six o'clock. The proprietor, in looking over his stock, estimates that the thief or thieves carried away twenty boxes of cigars, two thousand tickets of the Atlantic Shore Railway, besides a small amount of money and cigarettes. Residents nearby heard nothing during the night to attract their attention and although the door was smashed he job must have been done very quietly. The place has been entered several times within a year and the proprietor has suffered to a great extent in the loss of his goods. The police on both sides of the river are trying to get a line on the job to-day.

DIVES FROM BRIDGE TRESTLE

Man Quietly Disrobes on Pier--Makes Three Plunges in Swift Tide

Diving from a trestle into the swift tide of the Piscataqua is a new stunt carried out by a man this noon near the draw of the Portsmouth Kittery bridge. The man, a stranger, appeared on the draw pier shortly after 12 o'clock, when he disrobed put on a pair of overalls and was seen to walk along the bridge to a distance of 40 feet. Here he mounted the trestle made a hand-some dive in the stream, coming to the surface he swam to the piling, climbed up and was soon again over the top of the trestle. This he repeated three times. When asked who he was, he simply said "I am from Somersworth and am doing this on a bet of $5.00. He won his bet, but whoever he was he took a desperate chance and his picture should ornament the souvenir post cards when the next new lot are displayed in the windows in the stores of his home city.

KILLS SELF IN BACK BAY CLUB

Dr. John Scott Mason, a dentist of Saco, Me., was found dead in his room at the University club on Beacon street Friday morning. He had committed suicide by taking cyanide of potassium. He was a graduate of the Harvard dental school in the class of 1880 and received his degree of D. M. D., there. Medical Examiner Magrath was notified and after an examination ordered the body removed to the North Grove street morgue. Some who saw the doctor upon his arrival at the club Thursday were struck by an appearance of fatigue and illness. A smaller room than the one he usually occupied having been assigned him, he seemed at first inclined to demur, but laughingly said it did not matter and carried up his own hand baggage. Dr. Mason was well known in this city and at Kittery Point, where he had passed several summers.

TO HOLD A JOINT SOCIAL

Court Rockingham, F. of A., voted last night to have a social conjunction with Constitution Circle, C. of F., in Freeman's hall, Oct. 11. William E. Cogan, John Leary and John Quirk constitute the committee of arrangements of the court and Mrs. Nellie Philbrook, Mrs. Nellie Shields and Miss Margaret T. Mende the committee of the circle. Lecturer Joseph C. Pettibrew was instructed to arrange socials for the monthly meetings of the winter.

SHAKEUP IN DOVER POLICE

Dover, N. H., Sept. 22--The police commissioners today announced the reassignment of beats for the entire police force, which will go into effect next Monday. This is the first time the commission has made a general shakeup of the beats, but practically all have been changed from time to time before now for the good of the service.

There is one exception in the new order. The beat of night patrolman Robert Giroux is left as it is, that officer being critically sick and his recovery not expected. His beat is being covered by Special Policeman Harry McCarty.

But the orator of that day a hundred years hence, unless the error is sooner corrected, will note with profound regret that you did not carve upon the sides of this monument in imperishable letters, the name of every soldier and sailor who went out from this town in any war, in defense of his country. For the reason that these few survivors of the Civil War who are still among us, have helped to procure and establish this monument, it may seem to them that those names should be added. If at all, more modestly by other hands in the future. If that is your idea, I think you should know, at least, you the surviving heroes of the greatest war the world ever saw, by the pledge of this younger generation who are coming after you, that sooner or later your own names and the names of every comrade who went out from this town with you, shall be placed in bold and imperishable letters on that very shaft which we are dedicating today; or, if that is impossible, on account of its size, then on some tablet which shall be connected therewith. For, when that shall have been done, it will stand here by your town in your presence, as you come and go each day, in a more vital and personal relation to you, and its lessons will seem more real, personal and direct. When that is done, the school children as they stop to read,

Such a personality as that personified in such tangible, visible real form, almost speaking to you as you pass, cannot fail to leave a powerful imprint for good on the character of men for all time.

PRESIDENT GUEST OF KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 22.—A cloudless sky greeted President Taft, who arrived here at 6.30 this morning on his special train from Kalamazoo. The Knights of Columbus, whose guest he is, have arranged a busy day for him.

Leaving the car at 8 a. m., the President was escorted to Creve Coeur club, where he was tendered a breakfast by Rt. Rev. Edmund M. Dunne, bishop of the diocese of Peoria, at which about 40 priests of the diocese and members of the Knights of Columbus were present.

Leaving the clubhouse at 10 a. m., the presidential party was given an automobile ride, bringing up at the Country club at noon, where a luncheon was tendered him by the republican state central committee. All republican congressmen, state officers, republican members of the legislature and the chairman and secretary of the republican county central committee in central Illinois were present. More than 200 sent acceptances.

At 2 p. m., the President was taken to the clubhouse of the Knights of Columbus, where a reception was tendered him. From 4.30 to 6 he rested at the home of Mrs. W. A. Herron, a relative of his wife, and at 6.30 p. m., he was the guest of honor and delivered an address on "Christopher Columbus and the Philippines" at the annual banquet of the Knights of Columbus.

He left at midnight for St. Louis. President Taft got up early today and scanned the papers eagerly for more complete returns from the Canadian election than were available last night. The certain defeat of the government and reciprocity was plain, but the President had nothing to say before he left his private car to take up the day's program.

Coming down from Kalamazoo last night the President's special hit up a gait that a railroad man aboard put at close to 60 miles an hour. One stretch of 60 miles, south of Niles, Mich., was covered in 80 minutes.

Three Appointees Named. From his private car President Taft today announced the following appointments:

William J. Jackson, now judge of a minor court in the Panama canal zone, to be judge of the supreme court of Panama; John T. Wilber of Monterey, Tenn., to be a member of the Chickamauga national park commission, and Gen. Gales P. Thurston of Nashville, Tenn., to be the secretary of historian of the Shiloh national park commission.

WARD GIVES UP FLYING TRIP

Hornell, N. Y., Sept. 21.—James J. Ward, the aviator, resumed his flight to the Pacific coast from Addison at 7.18 this morning. After flying about five miles some trouble developed in his engine, and the machine dropped to the earth, a distance of about 60 feet, near Rathbone, and was badly damaged.

Ward escaped serious injury and is returning to Addison on foot. The extent of the damage to the machine will not be known until Ward's mechanics arrive on the scene.

SAYS WARD HAS WITHDRAWN.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 22.—A special from Lockport says that James J. Ward, manager for Aviator James J. Ward, announced there this morning that Ward has withdrawn from the coast to coast race, as a result of his fall near Addison this morning.

JUST TRY A TEN CENT BOX OF CASCAETS

Insures You for Months Against a Sick Headache, Biliousness, Constipation or a Bad Stomach.

Put aside—just once—the Elixirs, Cathartics, Pills, Castor Oils or purgative waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, coated tongue, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.

SPAIN STRIKE ABOUT OVER

Madrid, Sept. 22.—General order is being maintained throughout the country. The number of strikers is diminishing and the general strike declared yesterday appears to have failed.

Late last night Premier Canalejas announced to the press that the strike is over everywhere.

Worthy of the Highest.

The talk had turned to the orphan children of Henry Doane of Cherryville. The former resident asked the stage driver how they had prospered.

"They've done first rate," was the hearty response. "Both of them have done first rate."

"Jon Eddie, he learned the carpenter's trade and has worked right along, and as for Emma Susan—well, I'll tell you what somebody from over the Center said to me only last week about her in conversation regarding her husband."

"Emma Susan married Frank Baxter, one of the James Baxters. Well, that man from the Center, he said to me: 'I hear Frank Baxter's been chosen selectman. Well, I don't know but what he'll do all right for you,' he said, 'but whether he's the man for the place or not, there's one thing certain—if ever a woman looked sullable to the position of selectman's wife and would do it credit Emma Susan Baxter's that woman!'"—Youth's Companion.

Too Many Books.

Barnaby Rudge in his preface to "A New Description of Ireland," published in 1800, writes: "One of the diseases of this age is the multitude of books that do so overcharge the world that it is not able to digest the abundance of idle matter that is every day hatched and brought into the world, that are as divers in their forms as their authors be in their faces. It is but a thriftless and thoughtless occupation, this writing of books. A man were better to sit singing in a colliery's shop, for his pay is certainly a penny a pitch! But a book writer, if he gets sometimes a few commendations of the judicious, no shall be sure to reap a thousand reproaches of the malicious."

"My child was burned terribly about the face, neck and chest. I applied Dr. Thomas' Eucletic Oil. The pain ceased and the child sank into a restful sleep."—Mr. Nancy M. Hanson, Hamburg, N. Y.

TRAPPING EAGLES.

The Chinese Get Them With a United Net and a Decoy Bird.

Every year, according to an old custom, in the second quarter of the September or October moon, the inhabitants of the Chinese province of Shantung go to Mongolia to hunt the eagles which abound in that region. The hunters march in troops along the roads, carrying on their shoulders long poles from which are suspended their baggage and provisions and on which are perched tame eagles to be used as decoys.

The hunters make use of a large net, spread open on the ground and baited with small dried fishes. In the midst of which is placed a tame eagle. The decoy naturally begins to devour the bait and thus invites its wild cousins to follow its example. When the birds have alighted and are feeding the hunter, from his hiding place two or three hundred yards distant, quickly closes the net by means of cords and thus captures the eagles.

Eagle hunting is very lucrative. The feathers are used in the manufacture of fans and are sold at a high price even in China. There are three sorts—Kiepel, black with white centers; Chama, white spotted with black; Tentsing, half white and half black. Several eagles contribute to the making of a fan, for only a small part of the plumage can be utilized; hence these fans are very costly.

High Finance.

"What makes him look so solemn? He gets his month's salary tomorrow." "That's just the trouble. His wife and his mother-in-law allow him 50 cents a week out of it, and he's trying to make up his mind to strike for a dollar!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Balked.

"You got a miss in pay, didn't you?" "Yes, but it didn't do me any good." "Why not?"

"I talk in my sleep, and my wife found out about it!"—Toledo Blade.

Pretty Steady.

"That Jones boy who used to work for you wants to hire out to me. Is he steady?" "Steady? If he was any steadier he'd be motionless!"—Judge.

Spread of Unrest Throughout Europe Threatens The Whole Structure of Western Civilization.

Photograph of King Alfonso by American Press Association.

Nearly every country in Europe is menaced by internal disturbances. The situation of unrest recalls the 1848 period, when half the monarchs lost their thrones. Conditions are perhaps worst in Spain, where the labor movement has assumed revolutionary proportions and martial law has been invoked. Extraordinary precautions have been taken in Madrid, and the policemen have been armed with carbines. There is fear of a monarchist rising in Portugal. The assassination of Stolpin has thrown Russia into a ferment. In Poland, the military strikes, while the Irish railway systems are at a standstill. There has been much rioting in Budapest. The situation in Vienna is so serious that business is paralyzed and troops patrol the streets. An anti-militarist agitation prevails in Norway.

LEADER IS NEEDED.
The twentieth century will witness the renaissance of the people—their rebirth and regeneration. What they need is a leader, a man of indelible honesty, of highly developed sympathy and understanding, capable of interpreting their hopes and translating their aspirations into some big achievement for the cause of humanity itself.
The question of emancipation may come again, as it did in 1860, but it is not for the sake of economic and social conditions resulting from the failure to control or even effectively to regulate the giant monopolies.
William G. McAdoo.

WILL IT UNITE THE PARTY?
Some one has suggested that the Canada election will do more to unite the republican party than anything that has happened for years. Some good republicans made the claim that the reciprocity movement was contrary to republican principles and that now is the time to hoist the true colors. Let us hope that this is all true and that the party may get together for the good of the country. Things are certainly drifting towards trouble for the general business prospects of the country. There is unrest in all institutions and the business of the country is being ruined.

BIRD'S EYE VIEWS
The democrats cannot blame Taft for the defeat of reciprocity.
To the knockers—wait until Auditor Murray is on the job, before you begin to criticize him.
Champ Clark in his remark about the annexation of Canada caused the defeat of the reciprocity act. The Canadians actually believed that the United States was to gobble up Canada. Nothing to it!
The tramp who told the story of falling into the Piscataqua river and then overtaking his train at Butler's siding, has certainly missed his call. The "Yellow Journals" should secure his services at once, for an emergency.

If the clock at the South Ward room does not soon mend its ways, move. There was also a dull, throbbing ache across my loins and the moaned here post haste. Col. Vaughan's kidney secretions were highly colored with his many years of experience in and out of the South ward, should be able to set my pills, prepared at Philbrick's pharmacy, corrected my trouble and I have had no return attack.

AMONG OUR EXCHANGES
New Jersey has a law which prohibits the use of vehicles of any kind to carry voters to the polls, and the law has been pronounced constitutional. This law was enacted on the theory that a man who doesn't take interest enough in an election to walk to the polls, should not be allowed to vote, but in actual practice such a law may take the right of voting from an invalid or a man who might happen to have a broken leg, to say nothing of voters who live at a distance from their polling place, and would be disfranchised unless they walked instead of driving, taking a trolley or the steam cars. At this distance it looks as if the New Jerseyites had carried reform to an unreasonable extreme.—Laconia Democrat.

TRIBUTE TO A SOLDIER
The love, respect and friendship for an officer in the army was quietly and reverentially shown in the midst of our busy square Friday between the horse of twelve and one. Within closed doors of the North church and one lone person as a listener, the love for Hancock was expressed through instruments as messengers.
Mr. Alex. Bilbruck and Carl Behr, desiring to gratify the wish of a lover of good music in the person of Capt. Hancock. He having expressed a desire to hear a church organ and cello in conjunction, was invited to the North church to feast on numbers for these two instruments.
In silence and alone, this lover of music sat and filled his soul with the harmonies of Wagner, Rehnke, Goddard, Handell and others.
On the stained windows the Christ in mute silence, with uplifted arms looked on, and in the quiet of this temple of God one could mentally read the words of the great Master: "Where two or more have gathered in my name, there will I be also, and do I am with you always."
It was the Christ spirit which dominated these two sons of Orpheus to a noble act of love, which gave pleasure to a soul permeated for the highest art on earth among men.

PLAN TO PREVENT CLOSING OF SOUTHERN YARDS
A movement is said to have been started to block the plan of Secretary Meyer to practically close some of the smaller southern navy yards and stations in the interest of economy. At present appropriations for the actual maintenance of the navy yards and docks are made in a lump sum, and it is left to the secretary of the navy to disburse this among the different yards in his discretion. The appropriation for the current fiscal year under the head of maintenance was $1,280,000. Opponents of the secretary's plan are expected to urge that instead of making this lump appropriation, Congress shall itself specify the exact amount of money to be expended at each yard and station for maintenance. This would

OVERTAXED
Hundreds of Portsmouth Readers Know What It Means
The kidneys are overtaxed; Have too much to do. They tell about it in many aches and pains—Backache, weariness, headache. Early symptoms of kidney ills. Urinary troubles, Bright's disease follow.
A Portsmouth citizen tells here a reliable remedy for kidney ills. Leslie Whitehouse 7 Thornton St., Portsmouth, N. H., says: "About a year ago I began to have trouble from my back and kidneys. Often a sharp catch darted through my body and became so bad that I could hardly move. There was also a dull, throbbing ache across my loins and the moaned here post haste. Col. Vaughan's kidney secretions were highly colored with his many years of experience in and out of the South ward, should be able to set my pills, prepared at Philbrick's pharmacy, corrected my trouble and I have had no return attack."

FIFTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Gleanings From Files of Portsmouth Chronicle

Our good friend, the New Hampshire Gazette, is not dead, but born, and comes to us in all the radiance of youthful smiles. We are happy to chronicle its renewed energy.—Boston Post.
About twenty recruits, who have been stationed at Fort Constitution, left this city on Monday morning, having been ordered into camp at Manchester. They will enter the Fourth Regiment.
Mr. G. Frank Towie, of this city, has received a commission as First Lieutenant in a company in the Fourth Regiment, which is commanded by Capt. Greenleaf, of Nashua. He is abundantly well qualified in every respect for the position, and we feel assured will perform the duties thereof as efficiently as any other officer of the same rank in the regiment.

Fort Constitution.—We learn that the Ellsworth Guards of Seabrook, Capt. D. A. Titcomb, have received orders from the Governor, to be in readiness for duty as a permanent garrison at the Fort, and are now filling up their ranks for that purpose. They are to be regularly enlisted and mustered into the U. S. service and assigned to this particular duty.

RIVER AND HARBOR
Schooner Rebecca G. Whilldin is bound here from Hattian River, N. J., with a cargo of clay, being the first for several years to come here with such a load. A large trade in this commodity died out here only recently.
Schooner Rachel W. Stevens sailed from Norfolk, Thursday with a cargo of coal for this port.
Schooner Rodney Parker, at anchor below has been chartered to load granite at Stonington, Me.
Schooner William M. Walker loaded coal at the Consolidation docks Friday for Wells, Me.

ARRIVED BELOW
U. S. gunboat Marietta, Cooper, from Philadelphia.
U. S. Tug Patapasco, Norcott, Norfolk.
Schooner Mary E. Morse, McLean, Stonington, Me., for Boston, with saving blocks.
Schooner Harrie M. Young, Tarr Linekin's Bay, Me., for Gloucester.

Tug Irvington, Farnham, Perth Amboy, towing barges Bristol, with 80 tons of coal to the Consolidation coal company, and Beverly for Portland (proceeded with latter barge).
Steam light Hercules, Rowe, Plum Island with sand for navy yard.
Power yacht Hupa C. Howard Clark, Jr., of Philadelphia, in tow of tug Winoona.
SAILED
U. S. Revenue Cutter Androscoquin, cruising.
Schooner Grace Darling, Cheverie, N. S.

RAILROAD NOTES
Assistant Supt. Henry Scannell, of the Portland division, Boston & Maine, is ill at his home in Chelsea. Work has been started on the construction of the 75 foot turntable at North Berwick.
The post office at Elliot depot has been transferred from the railroad station to the store of Charles W. Willey.
Edwin W. Smith of North Hampton has been appointed division engineer of Portland division under the changes recently made.
Three bridges on the Hampton marshes have been repaired by the carpenters crew from this city.
Roadmaster Vose of Portland and Superintendent of signals Young, are arranging for the installation of an interlocking plant at Maine Central Junction.
A reinforced concrete arch over the Saco river, at Conway, has been completed also one at Bear Camp on the Conway branch.
A new station at Union will shortly be opened.
Double block signals will shortly be in operation on the Conway branch between Foundry station and the Water Works, north of Somersworth station, covering a distance of three and one half miles.

AUDITING THE BOOKS
The accounts of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias of New Hampshire, including those of Grand Keepers of Records and Seals Edward K. Webster, were audited in this city today by Supreme Representative Chauncey B. Hoyt and W. Kirk Chadwick, the latter being treasurer of the city of Dover.

The telephone company will abolish the four-party line service and give two-party lines, to be installed next month, and its to be a big relief.

Fair play on the part of the citizens will be met with fair play on the part of the newspaper man.

Did you realize that base ball games, picnics, carnivals and other celebrations cause an increase in the number of industrial accidents? I did not, until recently I learned from an employer's liability insurance company's agent to that effect. Their figures show that a big collection in any manufacturing community is always preceded by an increase in the number of accidents in that community.

There's a reason for this increase in the number of accidents: Operators get their minds fixed on the celebration, and forget their work, with the result that a knife slips or a finger gets caught in a machine, or some other unlooked for thing happens, and another injury is reported. The insurance men insist that a number of the accidents are intentional, and that an operator will cut his hand, or let his finger get caught in a machine, or in some way contrive to injure himself so that he can get a day off and go to the game. It looks like pretty expensive amusement to me.

TROUBLE OVER THE FLAG
Mayor Spear has compelled the U. S. Marine corps to haul down its colors in Denver, and as a result the mayor may be involved in an imbroglio with the U. S. government.
Two of the official flags of the marine corps were hung over the sidewalk from the building in which the recruiting station has its headquarters. This is in violation of a city ordinance.
Capt. Hayes, in charge of the recruiting station will probably take the matter up with the authorities at Washington.

The Observer
In these days, when so many of our residents of both sexes, are interested in the excellent moving picture and vaudeville exhibition given at Music hall, perhaps it will be of interest to be told about the early attractions at this popular play house. The writer recently had the pleasure of inspecting the date book of John O. Ayres, who was the first manager of the play house and from it was gleaned the following facts, which will be of interest not only to the old time show goers, but to the present generation. Music hall, or Portsmouth theatre as it is now called, was opened on January 23, 1878, by Charles H. Thayer stock company, who played a three nights engagement presenting Caste, on the opening night and John Woffs and Married Life, on the two succeeding evenings.
On Feb. 3 and 17, these being presumably Sunday evenings, the hall was occupied by the Portsmouth Reform club, a club composed of many of our prominent citizens, who had given up strong drink and joined the club, which at that time was the leading temperance organization of the city. The meetings were held on Sunday evenings in the old Temple, prior to its being burned and some of the well known temperance workers of the country as well as local exponents addressed the meetings. The old Temple was destroyed by fire early one Sunday evening in December 1876, a meeting of the Reform club being scheduled for that evening. Fortunately the fire occurred, before the hall was filled with the large number that usually attended these meetings.
Among the attractions presented at Music hall during the year of 1878 was John Stetson's Robin Hood, Nowell Brothers' concert, Washburn's Last Sensation, A Celebrated Case, The Berger Family, John Stetson's Babes in the Woods, Alice Gates, Carleton opera company, Nat Goodwin, Harlow's orchestra concert, Boston Theatre Co., L. V. Newell's concert, Uncle Tom's Cabin, Fanny Daventport, Bryant's Minstrels, John Stetson's Evangeline, Milton Noble George A. Jones opera, Hadley Brothers, Buffalo Bill, Blanche Meda, Dollie Bidwell, Duprez Minstrels, A. S. Palmer, Edith Wendell concert, II Trovatore opera company.
The old time favorite Uncle Tom's Cabin held the boards on New Year's evening 1879, and during the month of January, the attractions were May Fiske's Blondes, Martinez opera company, Dollie Bidwell, Goldberg. In February the first of the Gilbert and Sullivan operas, Pinafore was presented to a Portsmouth audience the house receipts being nearly $800. Other attractions that month were the Swedish quartette, James Maffi pantomime company, and Theo Titon. During the year the following attractions appeared: Genevieve Ward, Henry Morgan, Mary Anderson, Anthony and Parsons, Stetson's Babes in the Woods, Lilliputian opera Co., Boston Theatre Co., with Nora Bartlett, Struck Oil Co., Charlotte Thompson Ninth Regiment band, Laurent opera company, Maggie Mitchell, Vaverly's opera company, Barlow, Wilson, Primrose and West's Minstrels, Prof. Carpenter, Gus Williams, Moulton opera company, Tony Denier, Kate Claxton in the Two Orphans, Chantreau, in Kit, Joe Jefferson, Viola Clifton, Coffly Goolty, Baird's Minstrels, Harry Bloodgood, and Boston Theatre company.

MME. PAQUIN'S GOWN.
Worn by the Great French Dressmaker.

This strikingly handsome three piece costume was designed by and made for Mme. Paquin, the head of the great Parisian dressmaking establishment that bears her name. The skirt wraps the figure just about as closely as possible and does not bespeak increasing width in skirts. The narrow petticoat or underskirt is of white broadcloth, with ornamental straps of navy blue cloth placed at equal distances to form inch and a half stripes. Over this is posed the tunic, which opens at the left side to reveal the striped petticoat. On one corner of the tunic is a large motif in soutache, together with ball buttons in white pearl placed in double lines along the edge.

A Georgia Woman's Invention.
Mrs. Gertrude Smith of Valdosta, Ga., has recently invented two kitchen devices which will be of great good to housekeepers. One of these is a coffee and tea strainer, the other a peccolator, and both may be used with the ordinary tepid or coffee pot.

The two new inventions save money as well as time, the inventor claims, and Mrs. Smith is being besieged by inventors and manufacturers for the right of sale of her useful articles.
Mrs. Smith's invention, which indicates a practical interest in household affairs at this time when women are so generally charged with carelessness in this direction, is most refreshing, and she has been invited by the Atlanta committee to exhibit her inventions in the woman's department of the Appalachian exposition, which will be held in Knoxville, Tenn., early in September.

An Obliging Doctor.
"Doctor, I've tried everything and I can't get to sleep," complained the voice at the other end of the telephone. "Can't you manage to do something for me?"
"Yes," said the doctor kindly. "Just hold the wire and I'll send you a lot of sleep."
The next morning the doctor's office was filled with patients.

The Lapps have a custom that insures a small property to their children. When a baby is born they set aside a reindeer and keep it and all its young until the child is grown, and then the herd is turned over unconditionally to the boy or girl. Fond parents also give a reindeer to the nurse or person who first discovers the baby has a tooth.

A game the Lapp youngsters play is amusing. All the children get on their knees in a ring. Then they hold their toes with their hands and move by jumps. The one who can jump fastest without letting go his toes wins the game. The mistakes that occur are never serious, but are ludicrous as the children go hopping about.

For the Children

Loggerhead Shrike, or "Butcher Bird."

The bird whose photo heads this article is something of an anomaly. The shrike belongs to the family of singing birds, and yet he is more blood-thirsty than any of our true birds of prey. To watch this handsome gray and black fellow as he sits quietly upon some fencepost or other point of vantage no one would ever suspect that he was patiently waiting to pounce upon some smaller bird. Suddenly he launches into a weak, soft song which is quite pleasing.

This bird lives exclusively upon insects, birds and the smaller quadrupeds. The name "butcher bird," which is commonly used for this shrike, is extremely appropriate, for he has a curious habit of impaling his prey upon thorns and along barbed wire fences. I have seen whole rows of huge grasshoppers banging in rows on such fences. This shrike, the loggerhead, is found over a wide range in the southern part of the United States, while in the north he is replaced by the great northern shrike.

Although this bird sings and resembles a number of our innocent birds, he does not fool the smaller feathered folk. They have all learned from sad experience what to expect from this enemy, and they no sooner sight him than they hurry to the underbrush with hurried calls of alarm.

The "butcher bird" is rather a small, rascal to have such a bloody reputation, being only about eight and a half inches in length. The upper surfaces are generally a clear slate color; below, white, with a slight wash of ash. There is a spot of white on each black wing and some on the back tail.

About Rugs

There are so many grades of domestic rugs sold under a given name that the average buyer is confused.

Axminster Rugs for instance, can be sold all the way from $1.00 to $27.50. There are three distinct grades of Body Brussels.

So it is always well to look twice before buying a rug bargain, but for your own sake, unless you are an expert, we suggest you buy only of a store in which you have confidence.

Of our rug display we speak with special pride. You will find here now the largest stock of rugs we ever bought a selection that means much to your satisfaction.

A SAILOR FOUND DEAD

F. Lorenzen Went Into House on Peverly Road and Died---Natural Causes.

F. Lorenzen, a first-class gunner on the U. S. S. Petrel, died very suddenly on Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Mason on Peverly Hill road. An investigation by Medical Referee, Dr. W. D. Walker, was made and he was of the opinion that death had been due to heart failure.

Lorenzen, who was known as Louie, had been passing the evening with Jack Althman, on the Peverly road, and shortly before ten o'clock he left there to return to his ship. On his way he called at Mrs. Mason's and sat talking with her some time, and then asked if he could lay down, as he was not feeling well.

Mrs. Mason told him to go up stairs and go to bed if he wished, and he did. Shortly after Mrs. Mason heard him gasping for breath, and she went up and asked if he was sick. He did not answer, and she found him dead lying on the bed. He had disrobed and had gone to bed when stricken.

The police station was called, and Captain Burke sent out Officer Philbrick and notified Medical Referee Walker.

They went out and made an investigation and the body was turned over to Undertaker O. W. Ham, and his ship notified.

Lorenzen was known by several people living in that section and was a frequent visitor. He was a fine looking, big fellow and had been in the service over 20 years.

In his clothes were found $11 and some change.

COMMENDED FOR BRAVERY

Heroism Displayed By Young Sailor of Paducah Recognized By Navy Department.

For an exhibition of heroism under most trying circumstances, obeying orders to save a human life when he himself was suffering from severe injuries, Carlos G. Wood of Ellcottville, N. Y., a nineteen-year-old seaman of the gunboat Paducah, was commended by Rear Admiral Nicholson, acting Secretary of the Navy.

The motor surfboat of the Paducah, carrying Commander W. W. Gilmer, his wife, her mother and maid up the Piscataqua River, was wrecked Sept. 4 by a gasoline explosion. All of the party were more or less injured. Seaman Wood was badly burned. Commander Gilmer, unaware of the seaman's wounds, ordered him to save Mrs. Gilmer, who had been thrown into the water by the explosion. Without hesitation Wood jumped overboard, swam to her rescue and brought her on his back to the sinking boat. The entire party was then rescued in rowboats.

In a letter of praise to Seaman Wood, Admiral Nicholson says: "Your implicit obedience under such trying conditions, and your entire forgetfulness of self, deserve and receive the heartiest commendation of the Department."

AVERTED AN ACCIDENT

The prompt action of Conductor William F. Boynton of the train from North Conway for Boston, leaving here at 10:55 this morning averted an accident at the railroad station.

The train was pulling out of the station, when an elderly lady, who had been aboard to bid a friend good-bye, attempted to jump off the train.

Conductor Boynton, who was standing on the platform seized the woman and took her off the train and prevented her from getting a fall.

To make matters more complicated, the Portland passenger train from Boston was entering the depot at the time, and had the woman missed her footing in alighting from the train, she would undoubtedly have gone under the wheels of the train. The woman was considerably upset by her experience.

The Ground Gripper

WALKING SHOES

CORRECT MUSCULAR ACTION SHOE. It strengthens weak feet, allows nature to relocate distorted feet. Our Pivot rubber heels give the body balance. Examine our patented shoe. How can the muscles become strong when they are bound with iron? Plates are NOT necessary in Ground Grippers.

Piano Truth

In buying a piano it is better to be sure of quality rather than the price.

Price is something that takes care of itself, naturally. If you get a Quality Piano, you cannot make a mistake at any rate.

Packard Pianos

are Quality Pianos every time. They are manufactured regardless of what the selling price will be. Therefore the intrinsic value of the Packard is superior to most pianos.

Special attention is directed to the new

of our lumber on your premises you have the making of a good job of building or repairing. If the mechanics do their part as well as we do ours you'll certainly have cause to congratulate yourself. Try our lumber this time anyway. Our prices are no higher than others, so you have nothing to lose and a lot to gain by the experiment.
